SNO FOO 1994—Bert Davis

There is little doubt Dr. Davis deserves this award. If there was room for an inscription it would undoubtedly read as follows: For conspicuous nonchalance in sub-zero temperatures (eyewitnesses have proof of his horizontal data recording technique while others gathered crucial snow-pit data), for meritorious depletion of various brands of "antifreeze" and for expanding the boundaries of knowledge concerning the use of the above-mentioned "antifreeze" in snow percolation studies along the snow-bound routes of northern Manitoba, Dr. R. Davis is the winner(?) of the SNO FOO award for 1994. Congratulations Bert!
